Lives Are Lost in Fire Which Destroys Home of the Representative

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 23.—The bodies of Congressman De Armond and his grandson, Waddie, who were burned to death in their home in Butler, Mo., were found in the ruins of the house this afternoon. The bodies were lying side by side. Congressman De Armond evidently had been carrying his grandson when death overtook him.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 23.—Representative De Armond, one of the leading Democratic members of Congress, and his grandson, Waddie De Armond, aged 6 years, were burned to death in a fire that destroyed the De Armond home at Butler, Mo., early today.

Bones believed to be those of the Congressman were found by searchers in the ruins this morning. It is believed both the Congressman and the boy were burned to death without being able to leave their rooms.

The other occupants of the house at the time of the fire escaped. They are Mrs. De Armond and Mrs. Hattie Clark, wife and daughter, respectively, of the Congressman, and a woman servant.

Mrs. Clark believes that her father sacrificed his life in an effort to save his grandson. She thinks that Congressman De Armond was aroused in time to save himself, but that in awakening and attempting to carry him from danger, he became confused in the smoke and was overcome. The cause of the fire is unknown.

EARLY MORNING FIRE.
The fire started about 4 o'clock in the morning. The De Armond home was a large two-story frame structure, well set back from the street. On two sides of the house, equal with the second floor, four rooms or outdoor sleeping apartments had been constructed, and at the time the fire broke out the occupants of the house occupied these rooms.

Congressman De Armond and his young grandson were in a room on the south side of the building, while Mrs. De Armond and Mrs. Clark had separate rooms on the opposite side of the house. Nettie Boles, 20 years of age, a servant, had a room on the west end of the house. Mrs. Clark

LOVE LETTERS OF ALMA BELL TO JOE ARMES ARE READ IN COURT

Alma Bell Breaks Down and Sheds Tears When a Picture of Her Murder of Her Sweetheart, Joe Armes, Comes Before Her in the Courtroom at Auburn. Only Once Did the Accused Girl Give Way to Tears While Giving Her Testimony in Her Own Defense.

GIRL'S FATE SOON TO BE WITH JURY

All Evidence and Testimony Is Submitted and Arguments Are Being Made

BY LYNN ETHEL WILSON.

AUBURN, Nov. 23.—The love letters of Alma Bell, a series of impassioned notes and postcards written by the girlish murderer to Joe Armes, her recreant lover, whom she shot in a fit of jealous frenzy on June 5, were introduced in court for the first time since the now famous trial began this morning. Almost obscene in their suggestiveness, many of the communications were ruled out by Judge Arnott and the epistles admitted in evidence are only those which are expected to show that no engagement existed between the girl and Armes at the time she asserts it did.

In a strenuous effort to prevent the acceptance of the written words by the court, Attorney Chamberlain for the defense quoted the Supreme Court decision that a woman character cannot be attacked in an effort to prove her guilt of the specific crime of murder.

The entire morning was consumed in the production of arguments over the offering as evidence the letters written by Alma Bell.

Arguments in the case will be commenced late this afternoon and continued through the evening session. It is probable that they will last until tomorrow noon, when the case will be given to the jury.

Six doctors were called by the defense to contribute testimony on the alleged neurotic condition of Alma Bell. The evidence given by nearly all of these physicians helped to sustain the contention of the defense that the girl did not know right from wrong the night she killed Joe Armes. Prosecutor Hamilton succeeded in securing many admissions from these medical experts, however, which he believed had a negative effect on the claims of the defense.

The usual lengthy hypothetical questions were flung at the heads of the doctors. Many of them were suggestive in bulk to the celebrated hypothetical question asked by Delphin M. Delmas of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw during the first trial of Harry Thaw, and all were highly clinical.

DEFINES A NEUROTIC.
Dr. A. M. Cortura gave the most precise definition of any of the physicians under examination. He defined a neurotic as simply "one of low nervous vitality." Prosecutor Hamilton crossed lances with some of the experts, comparing their definitions to the definitions he read from works on medical jurisprudence piled on the table of the prosecution. A characteristic bit of his cross examinations was as follows, the question being put to Dr. G. H. Fay:

"Suppose a man contemplated suicide and carried out the deed. Would you consider him insane?"
"Yes."
"Suppose a man contemplated suicide and failed to take his life. Would you consider him insane?"
"No."
SPECTATORS RESTLESS.

The spectators in the crowded courtroom during the long session grew restless frequently, and again and again Judge Arnott was compelled to rap for order.

Following up his questions, Hamilton asked:
"Where do you draw the distinction between an act of depravity and an act of responsibility?"

The doctor was somewhat nonplussed for an answer and the prosecution appeared to have the better of the tournament of wit. While the doctors were contributing their testimony a burly form appeared in the doorway of the courtroom.

ORDER'S WIFE HOME.
"Here, I want you to get out of this," called out the gruff voice of Dan Itigan, an Auburn

SENDS BULLET INTO BRAIN FALLS OVER CLIFF

Young Man Takes His Life at Lands End, on Lonely Hills

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Out at lonely Lands End, early this morning, the sound of a shot reverberating along the cliffs, told of a horrible tragedy in which a young man, apparently about twenty-five years old, killed himself, his body falling over onto the treacherous rocks below.

A telephone message to the coroner's office is the only word that has been received from the scene of the shooting but the lone mounted deputy who patrols that section, and Deputy Coroner Riley and Messenger Koopman had the time of their lives in carrying the body of the deceased to the morgue wagon.

It was necessary to use ropes and to exercise extreme care in getting the remains over the embankment, the danger being great that one of the living might be killed in reaching the dead.

SUICIDE A SAILOR.
No identification could be had of the suicide other than he was a sailor. He fired the bullet into his head on a projection near Lands End, known as Dead Man's Point.

More Weighers To Be Dismissed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—William Loeb Jr., collector of the Port of New York, was a caller at the White House today and passed half an hour or more with President Taft.

Mr. Loeb said the house cleaning in the customs service at New York was about completed. Within the next week he will dismiss a dozen or more weighers.

He stated that when they were let out he thought the service would be in first class shape and that no more dismissals in the near future were contemplated.

PRETTY WOMAN'S LINGERIE INSPIRES LOVER'S PRAISE

Tells Wife About It, and So Her Suspicions Are Aroused and She Confides in Other Woman's Husband

Because E. H. Kueffer could not restrain his admiration for the pretty new clothes worn by Mrs. Summerhayes and was so indiscreet as to dwell upon their elegance to her, to his wife led to the discovery of his infatuation for the electrical engineer's spouse.

Mrs. Kueffer, according to Summerhayes' statement under cross-examination before Judge Wells in the divorce proceedings this morning, had her suspicions aroused that his knowledge of that character of clothing worn by the other woman did not enter into the contract and building business and she communicated her worst fears to Mr. Summerhayes over the telephone of her husband's admiration for his wife's underwear which caused him to entertain suspicion that his better half was not very discreet in her relations with the contractor.

He thought of the lure of the Hunters Inn for such couples and asking in the name of "Stewart" an automobile owner one of the employees of the place gibbly informed him that Kueffer was there with a pretty woman.

BOOKMAKERS DISMISSED; WILL BE RE-ARRESTED

Pair Accused of Violations of Anti-Betting Law to Be Given Hearing Before Police Judge Samuels

The constitutionality of the anti-betting law is to be determined at once in the highest court. E. T. Martin, known around the race track as "1-2-3" Martin, and Charles Zelinsky, who were arrested yesterday at the race track in Emeryville by Sheriff Barnett, were dismissed from custody this afternoon by Justice of the Peace Coburn at Emeryville. Both men were charged with having received money in connection with a wager on Rose Cherry in one of the races yesterday afternoon.

ON SHERIFF'S ORDER.
According to a statement made today by Attorney Carroll Cook, representing the New California Jockey Club, the arrest of the two men was not determined upon by the Jockey Club and the authorities as a test case. The arrests were made because Sheriff Barnett and his deputies believed that the law was being violated.

However, no confident are the Jockey Club officials that the men are not guilty of violating the betting law that the cases will be used to test its validity. An agreement was made whereby the men were to be dismissed by Justice Coburn and re-arrested upon warrants issued by Police Judge Samuels of Oakland. The men, however, will not be arrested tonight. They will appear in Judge Samuels court tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, accompanied by the Jockey Club attorney, Carroll Cook. No attempt will be made by the defense to oppose the prosecution by submitting testimony. Testimony will be given by the prosecution and it is believed the men will be held to answer. If such is the case, Attorney Cook will swear out a writ of habeas corpus so as to determine at once the validity of the anti-betting law.

WHAT SHERIFF SAYS.
"Under instructions from the district attorney of Alameda county," said Sheriff Barnett today, "my deputies arrested the two men who were, in their estimation, violating the anti-betting law. One of them offered odds on a race and the other accepted a $2 wager from one of my men. Until I am advised to the contrary I shall continue to authorize the arrest of men guilty of these practices, which I consider to be flagrant violations of the law. If this results in the discontinuance of horse-racing in California it will be regrettable—but I will do my duty, which means to arrest every violator of the law."

TAFT AND CABINET PROBE TROUBLE AT NICARAGUA

Invasion of Salvador by Revolutionists May Cause General Uprising in Central America

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The State and Navy Departments late last night that any word had been received from Nicaragua.

In the meantime work is being rushed in preparing the yards at the League Island navy yard, Philadelphia, to transport 400 marines now at that yard to Panama. These will reinforce the 200 marines on duty in the canal zone and a reliable force of tried fighters will be close to Nicaragua in case the United States decides that vigorous steps are necessary.

Reports from the commander of the Des Moines in regard to the effectiveness of the blockade of the revolutionists at Greytown, Nicaragua, and from the commander of the Vicksburg as to the situation at Corinto, were received at the navy department today. They were transmitted to the State Department without being made public by the navy officials.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—A dispatch from Port Limon, Costa Rica, says that passengers arriving at Punta Arenas report a great movement of troops in Salvador and Guatemala ports. It is said General Prudencio Alfaro is at the head of 1000 Nicaraguans. This expedition is said to be well armed and equipped.

The arrival of Don Luis Alonso Barahona, the ex-candidate for the Presidency of Salvador, is momentarily expected and he will join with Alfaro and Pugaes as one of the revolutionary chiefs.

The revolutionists are said to be in possession of Castillo Viejo.

INVASION OF SALVADOR.
In a San Jose paper it is predicted that the invasion of Salvador by Nicaraguans may precipitate a general rising in Central America. Following is the situation in Salvador:

If Alfaro is beaten the troops of Salvador and Guatemala will march through Honduras to attack Zelaya. If Alfaro succeeds a revolution in Guatemala will be assured.

Scores of applicants from Americans for service in the Estrada army in Nicaragua are being received by his office, according to Consul General Sussman, representing the provisional government in New Orleans. None of the offers have been accepted as a result of the revolution.

It was said last night that

She Can Eat Pie Now.

A lady recently visited a friend in Kansas, N. H., whose husband was very delicate, and yet she noticed that he could eat all the pie he wanted. She began to wonder how it was that he could do it, when she had to give up this delicacy because of disagreeable after effects. She writes as follows:

"I found it was because the pies were made with Cotolene and as I am a great lover of pie, I began using Cotolene, and have never had a bit of lard in the house since that time. I now enjoy my pie, as it does not give heart-burn as formerly."

Cotolene makes crisp, flaky, "digestible" pie-crust, that tastes good, and does good—lard does you harm.

CONGRESSMAN IS BURNED TO DEATH

Gives Up His Life Trying to Save Grandson From the Flames

was awakened by a cry, and going to the door saw smoke issuing from the part of the house where Congressman De Armond and Waddie slept.

"Get me out of here!" she heard Waddie cry.

"Never mind, son, I'll save you," Congressman De Armond answered.

These were the last words either of the victims uttered.

WOMAN GIVES ALARM.

A moment later the smoke increased in great volume and Mrs. Clark fled downstairs to the phone. Within a minute she had given the alarm to the telephone office and hurried back to the room of her mother.

By this time the entire second floor was clouded with smoke, and flames were leaping from the windows.

Groping her way to Mrs. De Armond's bedside, she hurriedly awakened the congressman's wife and dragged her from the room.

There was no time to aid the others. Trying her mother down the stairs, the young woman with difficulty succeeded in reaching the congressman's room and opening it. The two had scarcely reached the door when Mrs. De Armond fainted and it was necessary to carry her from the scene to save her from the flames.

Mrs. Clark had one of her hands severely burned, but maintained her composure and helped to administer to her mother.

The home of Congressman De Armond was situated across the street from that of James De Armond, one of his three sons, and father of the boy burned to death.

TRIES TO SAVE FATHER.

By the time Mrs. Clark and her mother had reached a safe place, neighbors and the firemen were gathering. The flames by this time entirely enveloped the big house, shooting from the windows, and to have entered the building would have been certain death.

James De Armond, however, dashed for the front door, frantic in his effort to save his father and the boy. He had already been lost in a cloud of smoke before neighbors could get to him and prevent his entering the house.

James then was dragged to the street by people who refused to let him suffer himself.

No cry came from the burning house, and it was evident Congressman De Armond and Waddie had been overcome. In fifteen minutes more the house had been consumed.

Nattie Boles, the maid, it developed later, had been one of the first to escape. She was unhurt, but too frightened to comprehend the situation, and had fled from the scene.

KIND HONES IN RUINS.

Search of the ruins at daylight revealed no tangible trace of the two victims. What was believed to be the bones of Congressman De Armond were located, but they crumbled quickly.

Mrs. De Armond was cared for at a neighbor's house. She recovered from her fainting condition and today bore the situation with fortitude. The financial loss is placed at $20,000, and includes one of the best libraries in the state.

Congressman De Armond had three sons and a daughter. James A. De Armond is the only son in the west. He is editor of the San Francisco and was assistant secretary on the staff of Governor Joseph W. Folk.

"Waddie" De Armond was the son of James A. De Armond. His right name was David A. He was named after his grandfather and was the latter's favorite grandchild. FAVORITE WITH GRANDFATHER.

The boy frequently remained at the home of his grandparents, always occupying a bed with the Congressman.

Congressman De Armond's other sons are Edward H., an instructor at West Point, and Lieutenant George W. De Armond, now serving with the army in the Philippines.

A brother of the Congressman, William De Armond, lives in Chillicothe, Mo., and a nephew, J. A. De Armond, lives in Davenport, Iowa.

Mrs. Battle Clark, the daughter, is Democratic member.

NOTED DEMOCRAT.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—In Mr. De Armond the Democrats lose one of their leaders on the floor of the House. A member of that body for the last nineteen years and a man of education and wide experience in public speech, he had become one of the principal resources of his party in all discussions of national questions. He made a specialty of labor subjects, but was never at a loss in handling almost any question.

Mr. De Armond had been on the bench before coming to Congress and had been a member of the Committee on Judiciary for many years.

Previous to the present Congress he also was a member of the Committee on Rules, but the selection of the wife of Harvey Clark, who is in the employ of the Missouri Pacific at Nevada, Mo.

Congressman De Armond was born in Blair county, Pennsylvania, March 13, 1844. He spent his early life on a farm and was educated in the common school.

BECOMES STATE SENATOR.

Later he attended Williamsport-Dickinson seminary, and a few years after his graduation was elected as state senator. Later he became circuit judge, and then Missouri's supreme court commissioner.

He was elected to the fifty-second Congress and was returned to Congress nine times. He took a prominent interest in the affairs of the House, and became one of the leading colleagues of Champ Clark, as minor league leader, rendered it necessary to place Mr. Clark on that committee, which had the effect of displacing Mr. De Armond.

While De Armond will be long remembered for his brilliant oratory and especially for his power of sarcasm and character for incisives, he also will long be known on account of his qualities as a party fighter.

RATHER PUGNACIOUS.

Inclined to be pugnacious, he often pleaded subjects as an aggressor rather than as a defendant. This quality of mind was the means of getting him into a personal altercation two years ago with John Sharp Williams, who was then the Democratic leader of the House. The difference arose over Mr. Williams' designation of a Missouri colleague of Mr. De Armond for a place in the organization of the Sixtieth Congress. They came to blows, but, both being lightweights, neither was badly hurt.

David De Armond was born March 18, 1844, in Blair county, Pa. His early life was spent on his father's farm, receiving his education in the common schools and at the Williamsport Dickinson Seminary.

In his young manhood he practiced law in Blair county, Pa. He was named a Presidential elector. He held successively the positions of State Senator, Circuit Judge and Missouri Supreme Court Commissioner. His entry into Congress was in 1891.

ALMA BELL'S LOVE LETTERS ARE READ

Evidence is Completed and Arguments Are Now Being Made

Lumber handler whose wife was among the curious crowd of women occupying seats outside the counsel rail. Mrs. Regan flushed and very much embarrassed, submitted to the command of her lord and master and with a last reluctant glance at the prisoner departed from the scene of strife. The evident penchant of many of the mountain women for the more sensational testimony of the trial and daily the dinner hour appears to be neglected while housewives linger in the vicinity of the judge's will ears strained for the latest bit of scandal.

DEFENSE CLOSES.

The defense closed its case in chief on the testimony of the doctors and the prosecution commenced on their rebuttal at a night session of court convened by Judge Arnett at 7:30 o'clock. The alleged insanity of the defendant was attacked by Percy Hamilton with expert testimony.

Dr. R. F. Rooney, who attracted considerable attention during the trial of Adolph Webber for the opinions he delivered, on the boy murderer, declared that he had known Pike Bell, father of the defendant, for many years.

"Bell was a big, lusty, exuberant man," he declared on the stand, "and had no nervous disorders to endow a daughter with."

Dr. J. F. White, who has been the family physician of the Bells, said he always considered Alma as a sound, healthy girl, and that he had never observed any neurotic tendencies in her.

SANE AND NORMAL.

Postmaster A. T. Fleming explained that he had known Alma since she was a barefooted girl in short dresses and had always regarded her as sane and normal.

Mrs. M. B. Granger of Placerville, wife of a tutor of James Earl Richardson, took the stand and testified that Richardson had not been in Auburn between May 2d and 15th. It was Richardson who appeared as an undetected witness for the defense when the attorneys for Alma Bell opened their case last Friday, and testified that Joe Armes had told him that he and the girl were under arrest and were engaged to be married.

The young man is a student at the Western Normal school at Stockton. He testified on the stand that he had been on a hunting trip in Placer county last May and had seen Joe Armes accidentally last May near the railroad station here.

THREATENS ARREST.

Three other witnesses were produced by the prosecution and swore that Joe Armes was working at New castle between May 2d and 15th and had not been in Auburn during that time.

"We have conclusively proved by these witnesses," announced District Attorney Tuttle, "that the testimony of Richardson cannot be depended upon. We shall endeavor to have him arrested for perjury tomorrow."

Manuel Neves, inkkeeper and man of affairs in the Portuguese colony, took the stand and testified to the telephone conversation he had with Alma Bell two nights before she disappeared from the Armes ranch with Joe Ruth. This conversation has been a point in issue between the attorneys of the defense and prosecution throughout the progress of the trial. Neves is a small, weazel-faced fellow with closely cropped black hair.

CALLS HIM GOSSIP.

Alma Bell says he is a gossip, and she holds him responsible for the last fight she had with her lover. Her story has been that the night she rang up Neves on the telephone she told him she wanted Ben Kennison to have some Joe sent to the Armes ranch for Mamie Armes, who was there very ill. The prosecution makes it a point to show that she rang up Neves on the telephone for the purpose of making an appointment with Kennison.

When the Portuguese took the stand he gave what he claimed was the exact conversation he had with Alma Bell over the phone.

REPEATS MESSAGE.

"Toll Ben Kennison I will be ready for him at 7 o'clock tonight," was what the girl really said, according to Neves.

Immediately afterwards, it developed, Joe Ruth called in a buggy at the Armes ranch and told Alma Bell that her old mother was ill at Rock Creek and wanted to see her. The girl left the Armes place without a hat, after a talk she had with Mrs. Mary Armes, mother of the dead man. She had not driven far along the road with Ruth when he was not ill and that he had called simply to take her out driving.

Alma Bell herself gave this version of the ride while she was on the stand. She became vexed with Ruth at having deceived her, she said, and they were driving along the road when the horse stumbled into a barbed wire fence. Eventually Ruth drove her into Auburn, where he left her, saying that he would have to care for the injured animal at a livery stable.

MEET KENNISON.

The girl then admits having met Ben Kennison, whose name, according to Neves, had been mentioned by her over the telephone. On the Armes ranch, Kennison provided her a room in the Kennison building, she testified, and she remained there Thursday night, leaving her mother's home at Rock Creek the following morning. This was Friday. Saturday evening she returned to the Armes ranch, where she met Joe Armes, Ben Foster, Mrs. Foster and other persons seated on the porch. All of them returned gruff answers when she greeted them, she said, and she then went inside and asked her lover's mother to explain the trouble. Mrs. Armes refused to talk with her and she then applied for an explanation to Mamie Armes.

LEAVES THE RANCH.

The sister of the man now dead told her that Mrs. Armes was very much vexed because Alma had used her name in telephoning to Manuel Neves about the appointment she was making with Ben Kennison. Shortly afterwards she packed her valise and left the ranch, refusing to sit down with the family at supper, which they eat just before her departure.

In less than two hours she had the quarrel with Joe Armes on the lonely Ophir road that resulted in his death. Whoever may be right and whoever may be wrong, there appears to be no doubt from the testimony adduced that the trouble between the girl and her sweetheart would have been taken place had Manuel Neves kept to himself the message she sent him over the wire.

Dick Albright, the Grass Valley miner whom the prosecution claims was one of the affiliates of the young murderer, was the center of attraction when called as a witness last night.

PROVES DISAPPOINTMENT.

Much was expected of Albright by the prosecution, but he turned out a surprising disappointment.

"Did you know Alma Bell at any time from August, 1906, to June, 1907?" asked Hamilton.

"I did," answered the witness.

"Were you ever engaged to her during that period?" he declared, emphatically.

"What?" gasped the prosecutor.

Albright started to explain, but the defense argued that he had answered the question. A long discussion ensued, which ended by Judge Arnett ruling that Hamilton could continue the examination of Albright.

WOULDN'T GIVE ANSWER.

"Didn't you tell me that you were engaged to her some time between August, 1906, and June, 1907?" demanded Hamilton.

"We object to that as being irrelevant, immaterial and incompetent," interrupted Attorney Chamberlain. Judge Arnett sustained the objection, but Hamilton went after an answer by another route.

"It was this way," explained the Grass Valley miner. "I wanted to become engaged to her but she wouldn't give me any answer."

Another titter went through the courtroom and Albright left the stand a puzzle to the prosecution and near as much of a puzzle to the jury as the tales of sensational revelations his testimony would mean.

Mrs. Armes refused to talk with her and she then applied for an explanation to Mamie Armes.

LEAVES THE RANCH.

The sister of the man now dead told her that Mrs. Armes was very much vexed because Alma had used her name in telephoning to Manuel Neves about the appointment she was making with Ben Kennison. Shortly afterwards she packed her valise and left the ranch, refusing to sit down with the family at supper, which they eat just before her departure.

In less than two hours she had the quarrel with Joe Armes on the lonely Ophir road that resulted in his death. Whoever may be right and whoever may be wrong, there appears to be no doubt from the testimony adduced that the trouble between the girl and her sweetheart would have been taken place had Manuel Neves kept to himself the message she sent him over the wire.

Dick Albright, the Grass Valley miner whom the prosecution claims was one of the affiliates of the young murderer, was the center of attraction when called as a witness last night.

PROVES DISAPPOINTMENT.

Much was expected of Albright by the prosecution, but he turned out a surprising disappointment.

"Did you know Alma Bell at any time from August, 1906, to June, 1907?" asked Hamilton.

"I did," answered the witness.

"Were you ever engaged to her during that period?" he declared, emphatically.

"What?" gasped the prosecutor.

Albright started to explain, but the defense argued that he had answered the question. A long discussion ensued, which ended by Judge Arnett ruling that Hamilton could continue the examination of Albright.

WOULDN'T GIVE ANSWER.

"Didn't you tell me that you were engaged to her some time between August, 1906, and June, 1907?" demanded Hamilton.

"We object to that as being irrelevant, immaterial and incompetent," interrupted Attorney Chamberlain. Judge Arnett sustained the objection, but Hamilton went after an answer by another route.

"It was this way," explained the Grass Valley miner. "I wanted to become engaged to her but she wouldn't give me any answer."

Another titter went through the courtroom and Albright left the stand a puzzle to the prosecution and near as much of a puzzle to the jury as the tales of sensational revelations his testimony would mean.

officials. We will see what is done in the Martin-Zelinsky case."

At the district attorney's office this afternoon it was stated that warrants would be issued immediately by Police Judge Samuels against both Martin and Zelinsky, charging them with violation of the anti-betting laws, and that their arraignment after arrest would be before Judge Samuels of the police court at 11 o'clock. The charges technically are that the prisoners made an agreement to "make books."

Chief Deputy District Attorney Phil M. Carey said this afternoon that the purpose of the District Attorney's office in dismissing the complaints filed against the accused bookmakers in Emeryville and filing new complaints against them in Oakland was to insure a thorough and impartial investigation of the charges.

While he did not intimate any bias on the part of the Emeryville magistrates, he said that the atmosphere of the race track village might tend to influence the cases in favor of the defendants. Therefore the District Attorney has decided to have the charges heard on neutral ground.

GENERAL WOOD WANTS NEW LAW FOR ARMY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Osterization of army officers to a radical degree was recommended to the War Department today by General Leonard Wood, in command of the Department of the East. He wants an elimination law enacted so that officers above the grade of captain will attain grades on an average of at least ten years younger than at present.

"Our present system," said General Wood, "results generally in the best years of a man's life being spent in a subordinate position."

He recommended the re-establishment of the army canton.

At the Age of Sixty ninety-five per cent of men are dependent upon their daily earnings, or upon their children for support, according to the best statistics.

This is largely because they have not learned the value of systematic saving while young. Parents who instill habits of thrift into the minds of their children will leave them a legacy more valuable than dollars and cents. A savings account opened in the child's name, which he can take pleasure in watching grow, is the surest way to develop this habit.

"BATTLE OF BAY RUM"

A Most Pretentious Scenic Travesty--Headline Feature at The Bell Theater This Week.

J. H. GALLAGHER, the Admiral in "The Battle of Bay Rum," at the Bell.

Accompanied by the booming of cannons and the calls of the man on the bridge, the "Battle of Bay Rum," a big scenic travesty, is crowding the popular Bell Theater this week. It is comedy pure and simple, and every line wins a laugh. The fun is all created by the admiral, E. H. Gallagher in the role, and the bonus mate, two German characters, one being a feeder for the other all the way through. Their jokes and satires are crowded but still the army of the unemployed grows, he declared.

LOS ANGELES CROWDED WITH THE UNEMPLOYED

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—Increasing daily is the army of unemployed here, according to Mayor A. Campbell of the Salvation Army, who says he is feeding 120 hungry people every day. He asserts that the army is taking care of twenty-four who have not even money to keep them from starvation. Night before last over 100 men were turned away from the Salvation Army hotel's Campbell added, who had applied for a tea or fifteen cent bed. The day before last, he said, the army of the unemployed grows, he declared.

"We have men who want jobs, but we cannot find work for them," he went on. He states also that there are a number of women among the unemployed, and that the army of the unemployed grows, he declared.

IT IS NOW SETTLED where the elite will dine Thanksgiving. A splendid meal with wine for $1.50 will be served from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the Hotel de Ville, 12th street, near Broadway.

CLAY IS NAMED FOR COMMANDER

President of Chamber of Commerce Now Heads Annexationists

The Army of Consolidation was organized at the special meeting held by the Progress and Prosperity Committee of the Chamber of Commerce last evening with I. H. Clay as commander-in-chief and H. C. Capwell as chief of staff. The organization will be formed on lines similar to those that so successfully waged the campaigns for bonds and annexation, with a major for each of the seven wards and three for the outside districts. There is to be a captain for each precinct and under them lieutenants and privates.

An auxiliary corps will be formed, offered by residents of Berkeley, Alameda, Emeryville and Ocean View, who are favorable to the consolidated city and county project. It will be a campaign of education, in which the material and other advantages of consolidation will be set forth in literature and argument.

Considerable discussion arose among the members as to the best methods of forming the organization and the lines of its activity, which was participated in by Bernard P. Miller, E. G. Byker, C. C. Craig, Thomas L. Gray, D. E. Perkins and E. H. Bull. It was finally decided that I. H. Clay, president of the Chamber of Commerce and commander-in-chief, together with H. C. Capwell, chief of staff, and H. S. Henion, chairman of the progress and prosperity committee, should appoint an adjutant-general, an executive staff of five members and advisory board and a general staff of ten.

The manner and method of effecting consolidation was referred to City Attorney J. W. Stetson, who will give his legal opinion on the problem at the regular meeting Friday night.

BEGGS FOR MEAL AND HAS $700 IN BILLS IN INSIDE POCKET

LA. CROSSE (Wis.), Nov. 23.—Taken to police headquarters after he had begged for a meal at the back door of a restaurant, a well dressed stranger giving the name of Albert Young, which the police believe is an alias, was found to have $700 in bills in an inside pocket when searched.

The man had been loitering about the depot waiting room for two days and talked in a distracted manner to the police.

The police believe the man is a resident of Waukegan, possibly of considerable prominence, and that he may have been driven from home while deranged. He is being held pending an investigation.

RECOVERY OF JEWELS IS ANNOUNCED BY WIRELESS

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Soon after Mrs. John C. Groves of Kansas City had sailed for Europe, a bag containing more than $10,000 worth of jewels was found in the room she had occupied at the St. Regis hotel. Mrs. Groves was so informed by wireless, and she promptly instructed the St. Regis management to forward the jewels to Mrs. Ferrell at the Vendome hotel, Boston. This was done and a few days ago, when the Vendome management informed the St. Regis that no one had called for the valuable package, the jewels were sent back to this city and now the St. Regis is trying to find Mrs. Groves.

IGNORE PRESIDENT, URGES W. J. BRYAN

Approves Oklahoma Constitution for Arizona Which Taft Had Disapproved

GLOBE, Ariz., Nov. 23.—William J. Bryan, who was the guest of honor at a banquet here last night, denounced the proposed copper merger as a combine which would seriously injure the interests of the smaller producers and the working man.

He also criticized President Taft for his advice to avoid copying the Oklahoma constitution when the people of this Territory come to draft the basic law of the prospective new state.

"Do not let the President of the United States threaten you," he said. "Let him not tell you that he does not want a constitution like that of Oklahoma. It is much better that the constitution should fit the people of the new State than the people outside."

"It is my earnest wish for your sake that the constitution of Arizona will be for its people and not for those citizens of Ohio who are simply temporary residents here."

CHICAGO THIEVES LOOT BIG JEWELRY STORE

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The jewelry store of Jensen Brothers was robbed of jewelry valued at $2000 last night when two thieves threw a brick through one of the show windows and grabbed two trays containing watches and diamonds. D. J. Jensen, one of the members of the firm, was in the store at the time, and he chased the thieves for a block before they escaped.

DIME NOVELS CAUSE WEALTHY YOUTH TO BECOME A BURGLAR

WALLA WALLA (Wash.), Nov. 23.—Systematic looting of thirteen business houses of Walla Walla within the past thirty days of goods valued at approximately $5000 was brought to an end yesterday by the arrest and subsequent confession of Frank Stahl, 15 years old, son of Mrs. Frank Stahl, a wealthy and prominent widow of this city.

Stahl is held in custody by the city authorities, his mother having refused to furnish bail. His arrest followed the finding of his watch lying on the floor of one of the stores he entered two weeks ago. Stahl was shadowed by the police and caught early Monday morning in the act of robbing a hardware store.

Reading of sensational ten-cent novels, the boy says, first put the idea of becoming a burglar into his mind. "I did not want the things I stole, but it was exciting," he said.

Stahl will receive $21,000 from his grandmother's estate upon reaching his majority.

DIVORCEE PRAYS AT HIS BEDSIDE

Given Decree Two Weeks Ago, Wife Yarns for Would-be Suicide's Recovery

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Praying that her husband will recover and that her of gratitude for the coming of the cloud which may be the means of bringing them together again in a happy, contented little family. Mrs. Bertha Gilcrest sits beside the cot of her husband, Arthur Gilcrest, at St. Mary's Hospital, watching for every symptom of improvement in his condition.

She trusts that the despondency and desolation which caused him to send a bullet through his skull yesterday will be the means of brightening both their lives if only he can recover.

Ever since, in the depths of despair, Gilcrest shot himself in the offices of his automobile company at 438 Golden Gate avenue, yesterday, and the bullet mercifully failed to reach his brain, his divorced wife has been his constant attendant. Her presence near him seems to aid his strength and the doctors who are watching over him believe that he has a good chance for recovery. While the bullet destroyed a piece of bone in the skull, the fracture may not be a serious one, and as the stricken man is hearing up wonderfully the situation is of the brightest.

Mrs. Gilcrest received her divorce only two weeks ago and in the event that her husband recovers it seems evident that the decree will be set aside and the couple and their two children united once more.

DYING PRISONER MAY BE SET AT LIBERTY

STOCKTON, Nov. 23.—Tuberculosis is engaged in a race against the hangman for the life of Mrs. Emma Le Doux, who almost four years ago was convicted of killing A. N. McVicar and placing his body in a trunk in a local lodging house. Yesterday she was brought out of the county jail for the first time since she was sentenced, and she was so weak that it was with difficulty she managed to walk the two blocks to the courthouse and return.

The murderer was pale and has wasted to a mere shadow of her former self. Twice she almost fainted, and her attorney, Charles H. Parfall of San Francisco, has asked that the court and district attorney have a board of physicians examine the woman so that her exact condition can be properly brought to the attention of the court.

Her second trial was set for February 2, but it is very doubtful if she will ever be tried, as it is more than likely that the case will be dismissed in a few days. She has been in jail over four years, and as two important witnesses are missing it is very doubtful if she could be convicted, even if the county was able to a heavy expense for the second trial.

BOY HERO RUNS DOWN BURGLAR

Messenger Awakened by Thief Chases Him Down Street in His Pajamas

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Alfred Freitas, the little Hall of Justice messenger boy, who has been a familiar figure among police court attaches for several years past, proved himself a hero this morning when he boldly grappled with a desperate burglar, who entered his room in the hotel at 74 Turk street while he was asleep, and stole his watch and $5 in cash.

The lad was suddenly awakened at 8 o'clock to find the man going through his clothing, and jumping up, grappled with him. The intruder fell down the hallway with Freitas in pursuit, and when the street was reached the boy, still in his pajamas, had overhauled his man, and a shout for help brought Policeman Thomas O'Connell to the scene.

The burglar gave the name of John Wilson and was booked at the city prison. He pleaded poverty as the reason for the deed.

Freitas is 19 years old, but looks much younger, and achieved some prominence two years ago by starting an independent messenger service of his own.

JAPANESE BARON TAKEN DOWN WITH ASTHMA

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Nov. 23.—Baron Edith Shibusawa, who heads the party of Japanese commercial commissioners, and who was reported to have been taken quite ill in San Diego yesterday, was improved when the special train bearing the party reached here.

The baron has been suffering from an attack of asthma which he contracted in the high altitude of the continental divide on the trip West.

The party, after being shown over the valley and visiting the great orange and lemon groves proceeded to San Hematidio and Redlands and left this afternoon for the Grand Canyon, where they are due to arrive at noon tomorrow. They are due at Oakland at 9:05 a. m. November 25.

BEST KEPT SECRET

A Hero of the Sea.

The days of heroic deeds are not passed and gone, nor are all heroes dead. It needs but the circumstance and the condition to prove their existence. The Cherry, Illinois, colliery catastrophe brought out several heroes conspicuously to the front, some of whom gave up their lives in order to save others.

The burning of the coasting passenger steamer St. Croix, off Point Dume, Los Angeles county, demonstrated that Captain Frederick Warner, her master, is made of the stuff which constitutes the true hero. When passengers and crew were on the verge of panic, Warner kept his head and with a full realization of the gravity of the situation promptly directed the transfer of the precious lives in his charge from the burning ship to the life boats, remaining on the doomed ship until he had personally ascertained that every soul abroad had been safely transferred. Never for a moment, according to the statement of his grateful passengers, did he lose his head, issue a wrong order or permit an infraction of discipline, although on several occasions he was compelled to enforce authority with threats to use the weapon which he had thoughtfully hung to his hip, among them being his own brother, the third officer.

In all of the trying experience, not a thing was overlooked in the disembarkation which would assure the safety of every person aboard, even to the care of the helpless infants among the passengers, the sustaining of whose existence depended upon a ten-gallon can of milk which he ordered passed into the boats. The transfer was made so timely that the boats had barely cleared the burning wreck when the ship's oil tanks exploded. The landing on an exposed beach was accomplished under his direction without the capsizing of any of the boats. With the same perfect mastery of the situation he provided for the comfort and care of the shipwrecked passengers and crew after the landing was made.

Warner was one of the severest critics of the master of the New York excursion boat Slocum, whose incompetency in the handling of the burning craft, resulted in the death of hundreds of helpless women and children.

Captain Warner figured as the hero of the coast passenger steamer Oregon when that craft took fire off the northern coast. In that case he transferred his passengers to a passing freighter, then headed the burning ship to the coast, beaching her at Eureka and then pumping her full of water. During the time he has been a shipmaster he has the record of never having lost a passenger or a member of his crew. It is an enviable record and it is undoubtedly due to the fact that he is master of himself as well as being capable of exercising complete control over others in times of grave danger and great responsibility.

Among those who attended the congress, convention, conference, sanhedrin or pow-wow of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League at the Hotel Metropole was that veteran statesman Hon. Tom Noser of Berkeley. No one can doubt the genuineness of a political reform movement that calls to its banner so eminent an apostle of purity as Colonel Noser, who has for more than forty years devoted the energies of a clear conscience and a vigorous intellect to elevating political standards and pointing the way to a higher and nobler conception of public duty. Colonel Noser's presence at the gathering removes all doubt of the sincerity of the movement, which also claims the loyalty and enthusiasm of that other ardent patriot, A. J. Pillsbury, affectionately known as "Pills" by his admirers and sometimes referred to as "Squills" by corporation hirelings and enemies of the people. Dear, dear, but what a collection of has-beens and would-be's the gathering was. We would give a Lincoln penny for Colonel Noser's real appraisal of the bunch.

Another trust has been downed by the Federal courts. It was a cold day yesterday for the Missouri ice trust when the Polar Wave Ice and Fuel Company of St. Louis, which is a merger of seven corporations, was declared to be an illegal combination in restraint of trade within the meaning of the anti-trust law. The evidence before the trial court—the St. Louis United States Circuit Court—showed that the combination had been formed to stifle competition and create a monopoly in order to control the source of supply and the market and to raise the price from 35 cents to 50 cents a hundred pounds. The decision was rendered by Judge George H. Shields. Coming so quickly after the decision rendered in the Standard Oil case, the decision of Judge Shields serves all the purposes of a concurring opinion.

Fool's Luck in Risky Venture.

It is rashness to the extreme for anyone to attempt to run in open boats the rapids and the canyons through which the main streams on the Pacific Coast flow; but the venturesome, who hold life lightly and openly defy death, will run the risk for the notoriety it gives them in the event of success. In the days of pioneering on these streams there was some excuse for such rashness, as the stream provided the quickest means of reaching the coast and civilized settlements, and, when the winter was approaching, the only avenue in which there was a hope of success, although forlorn at best. Take for example in the early days of gold mining in the Cairboo district of British Columbia, hundreds of miners who delayed departure from the mountains to spend the winter at Victoria and San Francisco until a time when the trails had virtually become impassable, took the chances of making the trip to Fort Yale from Quesnelle mouth with their treasure in open boats down the turbulent and treacherous reaches and canyons of the Fraser river, lost everything they possessed, their lives included, in the effort, only a small percentage of the boats embarking on the perilous trip coming through the big canyon of the river, south of Fort Lytton, in safety. The wreckage of the boats of the majority and their dead bodies were all that emerged into the still waters of the Lower Fraser to tell the story of the tragedy that had occurred in the canyon.

The history of the Colorado river canyon is replete with such tragedies, and it is remarkable that, at this late day, when there is no necessity for the taking of such risk, a party of intelligent individuals, headed by the president of the Central National Bank of Columbus, Ohio, should venture on the passage of the Grand, Marble and Cataract canyons of the turbulent and erratic Colorado river, from Green river, Utah, to the Needles, near the Arizona border, in this State, a distance of 1300 miles, in an open boat.

The undertaking was a desperate defiance of fate for the sake of notoriety, and it is in the nature of a miracle that the feat should have been accomplished in safety. But such has happened, and the party came through with two thousand photographs obtained on the trip.

That the party came through in safety was simply luck, not the result of skill, of which fact they had proof on the way, when they passed the wreckage of a party preceding them who had come to grief and paid the penalty of their rashness with the sacrifice of their lives.

Those who undertake such risky voyages for the sole gratification of a foolish ambition are not entitled to any credit for their achievement, for it could not have been accomplished by any display of skill, but was simply the result of fools' good fortune. There is no reasonable excuse for anyone undertaking such an insanely risky trip in these times when safe, modern means of land transportation are available.

Having discovered itself, Oakland intends to utilize its opportunities henceforth to the fullest extent and forge ahead.

The high price of wheat and the timely and favorable early rains this season have induced the tillage of large areas of land in the Sacramento Valley which has been idle for ten years, for the purpose of planting it in grain. Vast tracts in the valley that have been untenanted for a decade, owing to the low price of wheat, are being leased and plowed this year for the raising of a wheat crop, for it is a great many years since the prospects for good results from such a venture were as promising as they are at the present time with a favorable season opening and a profitable market in sight.

Even Niles promises to profit from the expansion of Oakland through the annexation election by an extension there of the Oakland Traction Company's line early next year from Hayward.

Chester H. Rowell of the Fresno Republican was elected president of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League, which is holding a combination of revival and experience meeting at the Hotel Metropole. This is the first time Editor Rowell has been elected anything. Usually his envious fellow citizens mob the polls in a frantic rush to vote against him. However, it appears that no one else would take the job.

The Yee and On Lick tong feud is spreading all over the State, and the police authorities, through some peculiar and unexplained reason, are apparently powerless to suppress it. Evidently there is a screw loose somewhere.

One of the first practical fruits of the beneficial effects of annexation is the closing of a deal for a block of land fronting on Sixteenth, Seventeenth and Campbell streets in West Oakland to be used as the Pacific Coast warehouse of the National Incandescent Light Company. Other large concerns are sure to follow by securing favorable locations for similar purposes near Oakland's water front.

Mr. Hearst Thinks a Fight Against a Free Press Is a Fight Against the People

(FROM THE NEW YORK AMERICAN.)

To John Temple Graves, Editor New York American:

The sentence of imprisonment against Carlo de Fornaro for alleged libel upon a non-resident, and the unfinished suits of the government against Mr. Pulitzer of the New York World involve principles and issues that should be seriously understood.

Imprisonment for criminal libel is a relic of the dark ages, when governments and courts desired the ages to be dark, and sought to inflict imprisonment upon those who were endeavoring to make them light.

Furthermore, imprisonment for an actual offense, where the offense is not of a character which requires the offender to be incarcerated for the public safety, is a relic of the dark ages, and should be eliminated from modern penalties, as imprisonment for debt and lese majeste have been eliminated.

Along with imprisonment for libel—that is to say, for some mistake or misstatement of fact in what may be, on the whole, a commendable crusade—should go imprisonment for contempt of court. Both are medieval.

Take such cases as the Gompers sentence!

How outrageous that this man should be sent to jail, deprived of his freedom and of the other rights the constitution gives him, because he prints in his paper something that some judge does not think he ought to print!

Are the government and the courts to edit the newspapers of the country and deprive all refractory sub-editors of their liberty?

What becomes of our free press under such conditions?

If a publication prints an article which misrepresents or damages any individual, justice would be subserved if the individual should receive from the newspaper money damages as proper compensation for the injury he has undergone.

When an editor or writer is jailed by the government and the courts, no individual receives proper compensatory damages for a possible injury, but an enormous and outrageous inquisitorial power is given to the courts and the government to persecute the press of the country and to repress such acts and such opinions as the government may consider objectionable.

Therefore the fight against the freedom of the press is not a fight against the newspapers, but a fight against the people.

There is no newspaper but could succeed better from a merely material standpoint if it did not make fights for progress and reform.

There is no newspaper that could not gain more in a sordid way by shutting its eyes to corruption or winking at corporate aggression.

There is no newspaper which could not enjoy an easier and more favored career if it would consent to tolerate the usurpations of government and to permit the rights of the people to be invaded.

Newspapers fight—they give blows and receive blows in the interest of the people whom they serve.

It is to protect the rights and liberties of the people that newspapers attack privileges, expose corruption and assail misgovernment.

That the newspaper should be assessed in damages for the proper conduct. That it should be injured in its income and its progress by the wealthy and powerful influences that it opposes is but reasonable and natural.

That the newspaper should be assessed in damages for the proper compensation of any individual that it may have injured in its crusade is only just.

But that newspaper men fighting for the people should be traitorously attacked in the rear and should be subject to imprisonment by the courts and the government supposed to represent the people is outrageous and intolerable.

Furthermore and finally, to deprive any citizen of his liberty, except when his liberty is a menace to citizenship, is unenlightened and un-American and unworthy of our modern era.

Such methods belong to the dark ages, when privilege and violence ruled the world and manneled all independent thought and entombed in dungeons all who attacked established wrongs.

The people have won, with great labor and suffering, the right to free speech and a free press. Let them be alert to maintain those rights, and let them count as public enemies all who would destroy those rights.

For these are the foundations upon which the whole temple of liberty rests.

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST.

Favors Southern California Senator

Governor Gillett has taken a stand on the election of a senator to succeed Flint that will commend him to the people of Southern California. He recognizes the claims of this section to one of the two senators and in an interview in the Los Angeles Examiner he says:

"Southern California is entitled to one of the State's two United States senators, and I shall never consent to becoming a candidate for that office in the year when it should fall to the South.

"The term of Senator Flint expires a year from next March, and when the time arrives to fill that vacancy, whether Flint shall be returned or some other man chosen, my contention is that it is for the people of the South to say and that it is the right of Southern California to name one of its own sons for the office. If I ever become a candidate for the senatorship it will not be when my election would leave Southern California without representation in the senate by a man from the South.

"Your interests are great and diverse. The fruit industry and the tariff's relations to it, your harbor and commercial and financial interests are best understood by a man from the southern part of the State, and it is only just that Southern California shall have constantly in the senate a Southern Californian to protect those interests.

"That has always been my contention, and when I was in the legislature I voted accordingly. I supported Bulla first and later Bard, voting against my own friends from the North because the South was entitled to the office."

—Riverside Press.

FOOTBALL—Its Perils and Reform Needs

"The real reform lies with the fathers and mothers of the boys who are going to school and college. Their prohibition of participation in football as it is now played will settle the question definitely. There is no lack of argument to show the reason for such a course. There is no lack of demonstrations of the deadly danger involved in every game that is played under the present rules. Every year contributes its fresh proof that every boy who engaged in a football game does so at the hazard of his life."—Washington Star.

"All that fairly remains of the question is whether the percentages of serious danger, as shown from the records, interlarge enough to warrant outside interference against the will of players and spectators. The evidence so far presented does not seem to warrant the forcible elimination of football."—New Haven Register.

"The argument for a sane and safe youth of July is making headway. The time may yet come when the argument for a sane and safe football may be heard, and skill may seem as worthy of popular enthusiasm as brute force."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

"There is a singular degree of unanimity against abolishing football at colleges. A death or so does not seem to impress the sportsmen for these institutions as it may parents who have boys at institutions where football is made a feature."—Pittsburg Gazette.

"In the Commercial's judgment the game is the king of sports for collegians and should be preserved. But as all the dangerous chances of the game center in the mass plays why not cut out or radically modify that feature and assimilate the game to the English rules?"—Buffalo Commercial.

"Why should the gridiron game be encouraged? It would be just as sensible to approve the old days when the gladiators went out to fight with wild beasts or the Mexican games, where the tormented victim was killed with a spear."—Buffalo Commercial.

"During a period of political agitation a stranger arrived in Magdeburg, where, on applying to the authorities, he obtained a permit or ticket of residence. He had not been long in the town before he became aware that his steps were being dogged by a man in blue uniform. He bore it for days, but at last said to the spy: 'Why do you pursue me in this way?' 'You are a detective, and my instructions are not to lose sight of you,' was the quiet answer. 'Why, what fault have the police to find with me?' shouted the stranger. 'My passport is in order, here is my ticket of residence; I am a citizen of Berlin; why do you follow me about?' 'It states in your passport,' was the reply, 'that you were going to reside here for pleasure; that looked suspicious, as it is the first time any one came to reside in Magdeburg for pleasure.' Supers are very particular about the distribution of parts. In a fairy tale a set of dominoes was represented by men wearing on their back boards marked with the different numbers. A deacon-

PURELY PERSONAL

Sir William Matthews, chief of the engineering firm of Goode, Sons & Matthews, who designed the new gigantic National Harbor at Dover for the protection of British Dreadnoughts, is the world's harbor builder. An energetic Cornishman of 65, he has constructed harbors and piers in all parts of the world. One of the most notable engineering feats carried out by his firm was the construction of the famous Colombo harbor. Their biggest undertaking, however, was Portland harbor, which looks in the largest area of deep water of any British artificial harbor. It took twenty-three years to place the millions of tons of masonry and concrete into position.

Sir Alexander Mackenzie, principal of the Royal Academy of Music, tells a good story of how he won the King's scholarship. When he entered for it he was engaged to play in an orchestra, and he was to attend the competition, and he was away from a rehearsal without first obtaining permission. At the next rehearsal the conductor told him his services would no longer be required, as he had taken "French leave." "Oh, well, I don't care," he said. "I've won the King's scholarship!" "Oh, you have, have you?" said the conductor, in an altered tone. "Very well; under the circumstances you may stay."

That a 12-year-old boy should command such an unprecedented salary as 100 pounds a week is indeed a notable event. Such, however, is the case with Wilfred Morrison, the boy singer of Toronto, who is to be paid that sum by a New York concert company for a tour of the United States from New York to San Francisco, and thence to Australia, the trip to last one year.

ANOTHER STEP TOWARD A 'GREATER OAKLAND'

That Oakland is to assume a greater and greater place of importance in the commercial and industrial life of the Pacific Coast cannot be gainsaid. That city possesses many natural advantages that San Francisco does not. It has a larger area adapted for manufacturing purposes than has San Francisco, and by unloading goods upon the Oakland side one handling can be saved. It has not, however, the shipping facilities that San Francisco possesses. The recent bond issue denotes a determination upon the part of the voters to obtain such shipping facilities, and it will not be surprising if in the course of years—and not so many years at that—a great part of the shipping industry is not carried on upon the Oakland side. —Oroville Daily Register.

RAILROAD TRAFFIC NEWS

The Chicago, Milwaukee and Puget Sound has filed a petition with the Washington State Railway Commission asking it to require the Great Northern to establish physical connection and interchange of cars with the complainant at Seattle.

Adrian Gips, general agent of the Holland-American steamship line, was arrested in New York City last week and held in $10,000 bail on a charge of receiving from the Central Vermont, the Grand Trunk and the Washburn illegal business on westbound freight. The investigation of the shipping arrangements on which this indictment was based was made by the federal grand jury in September.

In the House of Commons recently the question was raised as to whether the Home Office would consider the question of compelling tramway authorities to fix on their cars a device for making a continuous noise when the speed exceeds a certain limit, as is now done in the case of motor omnibuses. Mr. Masterman replied that the question was under consideration, but the application of the device to tramcars presented special difficulties, owing to the varying limits of speeds authorized for different trams.

Mr. Masterman was aware that some of the cars on the Thames embankment traveled at a speed of over 20 miles per hour, but no answer was given.

LET CONGRESS INVESTIGATE

It is very doubtful whether a criminal prosecution will uncover all or even any great part of the sins of which the American Sugar Refining Company has been guilty. We should consider the matter as a highly appropriate subject for Congressional investigation. The fraud has been going on for more than a dozen years, apparently. It may not be true that the trust has been powerful enough during all these years to stand off Federal inquiry into its practices, but some of the evidence points that way. We know that it has been very powerful. The country has not forgotten how the "Senators from Havermay" were able to share the Wilson tariff law of 1894 to the liking of the sugar refining people, and so far to baffle the intentions of the party then in power that President Cleveland refused to sign the bill.

If a move should be made in Congress to begin investigation this same influence would be exerted to stop it, we have no doubt. It is precisely in that department of the trust's activities that the investigation should be most thorough. The public would welcome a full disclosure of the trust's relation to the Government, to the Congress and in the laws made by Congress.—New York Times.

The charges against Professor A. C. Harris, of the Berkeley High School, that he was guilty of immorality because he gazed too ardently at the pretty ankles of his girl pupils, and that he was slovenly in dress and of insufficient education to preside as principal over a public school, were dismissed by the Board of Education last night. The board declared, after an investigation, that the charges were instigated by a crank who had a grudge against Harris, and that many people signed the charges not knowing what they were doing.

Edward Coates, a veteran 49er, overpowered and captured a burly robber, who last night attempted to hold him up in the little store conducted by the pioneer in East Oakland. Coates took a big revolver away from the robber and, after binding and gagging him, went to call for assistance in taking the man to the police station. During his absence the man escaped. The veteran has several marks, however, to attest his story of the attempted hold up.

WESTERN PACIFIC OFFICIALS NAMED

Well Known Railroad Men Selected for Appointments by Gould Line

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Tom Schumacher, first vice-president of the Western Pacific in charge of traffic, arrived in this city last night and immediately came the announcement of other appointments to the executive offices of the Gould system of Denver.

C. H. Ketchum, formerly with the Delaware, Lakawana & Western, has been given the position of superintendent of the western division, with control of the marine department.

R. M. Ogilvie has come from the Burlington Route to fill the office of superintendent of the eastern division, and Matt Sawyer, formerly with the Pacific coast extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, will be the trainmaster of the western division of the Western Pacific.

The new superintendent and Sawyer are already hard at work on the arrangements for the opening of the Western Pacific to freight traffic.

With reference to the policy of the Gould line in traffic matters, Vice-President Schumacher states that he is not yet ready to make any announcement. When the Western Pacific was first projected the intention was to make the new line, in connection with the Denver & Rio Grande, a western connection for various other lines which were without Pacific terminals, and dependent upon the Southern Pacific for traffic arrangements of San Francisco bay freight.

When Schumacher was asked if this was to be the policy of the new line he admitted in a tentative sort of way that the original plan might be adopted, but added that this was another of the subjects which he would rather not positively discuss at present.

Other appointments announced by the Western Pacific are as follows: O. Meadows, formerly trainmaster of the Santa Fe at San Bernardino, chief dispatcher; C. M. Standbury, formerly with the Southern Pacific at Reno, Nevada, master mechanic at that point; E. W. Mason, superintendent of telegraph, with headquarters at San Francisco.

GRUSOME PACKAGE IS SENT COLORADO JURIST

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 23.—Justice of the Peace E. F. Toombs yesterday received two pieces of human flesh through the mails. Accompanying them was a note explaining that they had been taken from a criminal patient, the writer expressing the wish that the judge might catch the disease and die.

The county physician and the city chemist both examined the gruesome contents of the letter and pronounced them human flesh. There is no way, they declare, that it can be told whether the flesh contains contagion until some animal is inoculated.

In the meantime Judge Toombs has reported the matter to the federal authorities for investigation, and a member of the city detective department has been assigned to work out the mystery.

Judge Toombs is unaware of the existence of any enemy, unless it be some one upon whom he has inflicted punishment in his official capacity.

Holiday Wearables for Men

SELECTION OF SPIKES BY BASEBALL MAGNATES

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—John H. Hyder, president of the National League, is of the opinion that a selection has not yet been made in regard to the work worn by baseball players. This will be one of the most important matters to be considered by the joint committee on rules at the meeting here next month. For a fast game ball, Hyder declares spikes are necessary. He also believes the provision prohibiting players from sliding into a base not first is impracticable.

"Some other solution is necessary," said Hyder. "If we do away with slides the game will necessarily be a dull one. We must have players slide into first, but the many injuries through spikes necessitate a solution and I believe it will be reached."

LINCOLN-ROOSEVELT LEAGUE OFFICERS AND PLATFORM

Will Hold a Conference Early Next Year To Put a State Ticket in The Field

After THE TRIBUNE went to press yesterday afternoon the delegates to the Lincoln-Roosevelt League, who were meeting at the Hotel Metropole, selected officers for the league.

Those elected were President, Chester H. Lowell, Fresno, vice-presidents, Harold T. Power, Auburn, M. Lissner, Los Angeles, Hiram W. Johnson, San Francisco, William R. Davis, Oakland, treasurer, Adolph Uhl, Piedmont. The selection of a state secretary was left to the executive committee which with the addition of the elective officers, will consist of three members from each congressional district.

The constitutional district members of the executive committee will be appointed by President Lowell and they in turn will appoint five state central committee members from each of the 30 assembly districts making a total strength of 155 on the official governing body of the league.

SOME HENRY TALK.

There was no open discussion yesterday of candidates either for governor or United States Senator but there was some vigorous, if quiet, campaigning done on behalf of Francis J. Henry for governor. J. C. Gates of Los Angeles for senator. Gates was one of the original Lincoln-Roosevelt leaders. He was the floor leader of the Lincoln-Roosevelt league forces in the Sacramento state convention last year when Tom Dozier declared that a Republican convention could not afford to be "snubbed" and "driven out of the convention" enough regularly elected delegates to wrest control from the longhairs and restore it to the organization.

After a long discussion the league finally adopted this platform for their 1910 campaign.

PLATFORM FOR 1910

The Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League has been organized for the purpose of uniting into an effective working body the majority of the Republicans of California, which majority has long been ineffective through lack of organization.

The league aims to free the Republican party from domination by corrupting corporations, political bosses and the criminal classes manipulated by their political clowns. It aims to place the political and official life of the state on a higher plane to the end that every citizen should be able to participate at every stage in the affairs of government without fear of any loss of self-respect and that the public service shall be restored to its old time dignity efficiency and honor.

We reaffirm our allegiance to the Republican party and to the Roosevelt policies and heartily endorse President Taft in his avowed determination to enforce the law and to enforce the law and to enforce the law.

We as Republicans pledge our united efforts to emancipate the politics and government of the State of California from corruption, control, and to this end we favor

The election of a State administration free from control by the political machine of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and allied interests, and pledge to a policy of efficiency and economy rather than to the maintenance of a political machine through the spoils of office.

Such a revision and simplification of our system of laws and procedure as shall result in the speedy and equal enforcement of the law.

AS TO CANDIDATES

The nomination and election to the legislature of those candidates only who are known to be capable and honest and free from all obligations to the political machine of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and allied interests, but who will treat the rights of corporations as justly as the rights of individuals.

We demand that the next legislature adopt in proper form and transmit to Congress an act or joint resolution favoring amendment to the constitution of the United States providing for the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people, and that the adoption of such amendment be a condition of the existing primary election law be so amended as to afford a statewide advisory expression of party opinion as to their election.

Presuming that the state committee of the league will find it necessary to call a later conference for the purpose of agreeing on candidates and preparing for the campaign, we defer the consideration of other issues until that time, and confine this platform to the immediate and vital issues of party emancipation without which no other reforms are possible.

Believing in the patriotism, good intentions and ability of the millions of the membership of the Republican party of California, notwithstanding that in this state its organization has long been dominated by unprincipled influences, the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League invites all Republicans and citizens of the state who believe in the principles above enumerated to support the league in its efforts to carry out these principles, thus quickening and elevating the civic and public life of the state.

ETHEL BARRYMORE SOON EXPECTS THE STORK

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Ethel Barrymore (Mrs. Russell Orinwald Colt) is very soon to become a mother. It is said the interesting event is expected at the home of the young couple in Belhaven, Conn., where Mrs. Colt has remained during the summer and fall.

Miss Barrymore's marriage on March 17th last to one of the nation's former president of the United States Rubber Company followed a romantic courtship.

Miss Barrymore, whom report had engaged to a score of prominent men, at home and abroad, always declared she would marry an American but Mr. Colt had never been mentioned as a suitor until a few weeks before her brother Jack Barrymore, announced that they had been married at Hyde Park, near Boston. They wished to avoid all publicity and the ceremony was very quiet.

H-O

The Nation's Breakfast

The great American Nation is representative of every country on the globe; consequently there is a variety of tastes and preferences; but everywhere you will find that the universal breakfast dish is Oatmeal porridge.

But when you ask for oatmeal—be sure to specify "H-O"—the only steamed-cooked oatmeal.

Breakfast is the prelude to the day, and you want a food—appetizing, tempting and nourishing—to put you on your mettle to cope with the strenuous emergencies. H-O oatmeal supplies muscle-making and brain-building material. It is a concentrated oat product, complete in nutriment.

If your health is below par and your digestion faulty, eat H-O oatmeal and increase your health dividends.

A dainty dish for the breakfast table!

Do not confuse H-O oatmeal with the ordinary raw oats sold under the name of "Rolled Oats" or "Crushed Oats." H-O oatmeal is never sold in bulk; it is free from dirt, germs and all impurities.

H-O oatmeal is manufactured from the highest grade of selected stock. After removing all foreign matter, the meat of the oat is subjected to a very high temperature, and by our own patented process is cooked for several hours under heavy steam pressure. This steam-cooking dextrinizes the starch and renders the oats easily digestible.

H-O oatmeal is ready for the breakfast table after from ten to fifteen minutes' boiling, and provides an inviting dish of sweet, clean, separate, tender kernels in place of sticky, soggy, indigestible mass obtained in cooking the usual "Rolled Oats."

Possibly the "other" kind may be cheaper; but as soon as you have tested and appreciated the quality of H-O oatmeal, you will gladly pay the few cents difference.

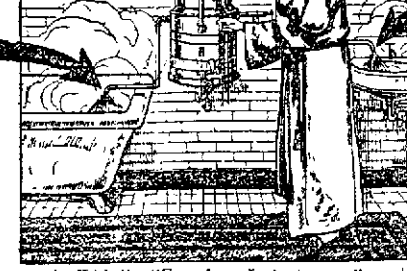

ASK YOUR GROCER FOR H-O OATMEAL THERE IS NO OTHER—"JUST AS GOOD"

Strike A Match-And Instantaneously, Water Without Limit, Is Heated Steaming Hot

A WATER heater that heats instantaneously all the water you can possibly use, or warm any time from the moment you strike a match, is the new "Humphrey Instantaneous" water heater. It is a water heater that uses gas, and the hot water is actually running out of the faucet, that gives you water piping hot and not merely lukewarm. That uses one-third the gas you now use in your kitchen boiler; that heats water only as fast as you use it, and that would keep pouring out hot water from the moment you strike a match, and that would keep pouring out hot water from the moment you strike a match, and that would keep pouring out hot water from the moment you strike a match.

more than one bath, and it takes an age to heat more water for another bath for another bath. Besides, in the kitchen boiler you always have to heat more water than you need, and have to wait a long while before it gets sufficiently hot. This is an expense in gas, loss of time and an inconvenience, and the water you get is usually lukewarm after all.

The "Humphrey Instantaneous" heats these 60 gallons for only 8 cents a day. The "Humphrey Instantaneous" is one of the most remarkable household conveniences of our age. It is a necessity. It never gets out of order, you never have anything to pay, and anyone can install it. In rented apartments, dentists' offices, barber shops, and where an unlimited supply of hot water must be ready constantly, it solves the quick, cheap, hot water problem as nothing else in the world has ever done before. It is a wonder as a time saver, gas-saver and a money-saver and a gem for the home.

To the Bath-Tub

people in your house want to take a bath with 2 hours time. With a kitchen boiler to rely on, it couldn't be done. You couldn't heat the water, let alone the first place. But with this "Humphrey Instantaneous" water heater, you can take a bath with 2 hours time. With a kitchen boiler to rely on, it couldn't be done. You couldn't heat the water, let alone the first place. But with this "Humphrey Instantaneous" water heater, you can take a bath with 2 hours time.

With the "Humphrey Instantaneous" you have hot water instantly for any purpose in the middle of the night. When every fire in the house is out, just as quick as it takes you to strike a match, the supply of hot water never ends, unless you shut it off yourself.

With the "Humphrey Instantaneous" you get the cheapest hot water in the world. A family of five uses on an average of 60 gallons of hot water a day. With gas costing 15 cents per cubic foot, it costs only 8 cents to heat these 60 gallons with your kitchen boiler.

and indestructible. Each is fitted with a safety-locked pilot, which prevents the gas from being turned on to the burners without first opening the pilot. The safety locked gas and water valves make it impossible to open the gas to the main burners until the water is turned on. It is safe even with children around. Its cost is inconsiderable and it quickly pays for itself. These heaters are most beautifully and most accurately made, of steel, cast iron and copper, nickel plated and where an unlimited supply of hot water must be ready constantly, it solves the quick, cheap, hot water problem as nothing else in the world has ever done before.

Get our free booklet of illustrations and full explanation of the Humphrey Instantaneous Bath Heaters by sending your name and address today to The Humphrey Co., Dept. 1, Kansas City, Mo.

If you want a larger heater, for supplying a whole house with hot water instantaneously, any minute of the day or night for kitchen, laundry, rooms and bath-rooms, we have a separate booklet, on these wonderful Automatic Bath Heaters, which we will send you free if you are interested. Send for it.

Grains and Provisions See

Higher Prices

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The Inter-ocean says: December wheat is up 16 1/2c from its low point of last August. It is at the point where those who have their wheat hedged or who are short and do not care to cover in the pit are bringing the cash wheat here. The market has been 12c at the bushels of No. 1 Duluth northern, 250,000 bushels of Nebraska No. 2 hard and 70,000 bushels of No. 2 Kansas City

CHICAGO, Nov. 28—There was considerable buying in the market for corn today, which resulted in material strength. Pitt traders and commission houses in general were more active than in previous days. Prices opened unchanged to 1/2¢ higher, with December 1909 at 106 1/2¢ and 1910 at 106 1/2¢. Within a short time the price of the December option had been bid up to $1.00 1/2 and the May to 100 1/2¢.

The market weakened perceptibly in the final hour on selling, based on rumors that the Argentinean government was worried about the weather in Argentina was favorable for harvesting. December sold off to $1.08 1/2 @ 1.08 1/2 and May to $1.05 1/2 @ 1.05 1/2.

The close was easy with December off 1/4 @ $1.08 1/2 @ 1.08 1/2. May was 1/4 @ lower at $1.05 1/2 @ 1.05 1/2.

The strength of wheat held the corn market firm early in the session. December opened at 80 1/2 @ 80 1/2 and closed at 80 1/2 @ 80 1/2. The December delivery opened 1/4 @ higher at 80 1/2 @ 80 1/2 and advanced to 80 1/2 @ 80 1/2.

The corn market was quiet in wheat. December selling off to 80c. The close was easy, with December unchanged at 80c.

Grain and oilseed interests had a strengthening effect on the oat market at the start. December opened 1/4 @ higher at 80c and closed at 80c.

Provisions developed considerable strength following a steady tone at the start. The hog market was quiet, but the product showed the best gains. Prices at the opening were unchanged to 2 1/2 @ 65c. Higher.

LIVERPOOL GRAIN.

LIVERPOOL, Nov. 26.—At the start the market was steady, with values bid to bid higher in some cases than at the close of yesterday's trading and lighter Montevideo offerings, for which there was a good demand and which were sold at 10½d. The Argentine market was a further advance, December raising an additional ¼d on the reported Argentine futures. La Plata offerings were firm and it is expected that the advance will continue.

that the ruling of the market was a large decrease this week and also that the exports from Russian will shortly show a sharp falling off. Toward midday there was some reaction as Manitoba offerings became larger and part of the advance was lost. At this time the market was still firm and $\frac{3}{4}$ d to $\frac{1}{2}$ d higher than yesterday.

The corn market at the start was unchanged. Late December advanced $\frac{1}{4}$ d on the firmness

LEAVES BROTHER OUT IN HIS WILL

Torney Writes to County Clerk From Ireland Inquiring About Sister's Death

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—When Miss Christina Torney died on June 12 last, possessed of an estate valued at $20,000, her brother, who lives in far-away Ireland, was evidently anything but dissatisfied. Realizing that he was her nearest relative, he naturally expected quite a slice of her estate, but repeated letters to friends here failed to give him any information and so he wrote a long letter to the county clerk, which he concludes as follows:

"I would like very much to know, such news would be consoling and gratifying to me, as her beloved brother. If my sister Christina Torney died and when her death occurred."

Incidentally he desires to inquire how much of the money he was left. By Miss Torney's will, executed just five days before her death, she left her entire fortune to her niece, disregarding her brother Michael entirely. The latter lives in London, County Longford, Ireland.

BELL'S SUCCESSOR AS ARMY CHIEF

General Leonard Wood Favored as Most Likely to Be Promoted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—General Franklin Bell, chief of staff of the United States Army, will soon return to the field service, and there is much speculation as to his successor. While there are several Major Generals who take the appointment possibly may fall to them, the general belief in the army is that the next chief of staff will be Major General Leonard Wood. Major General William H. Carter also is considered a likely candidate.

Between these two officers there seems at present to be little to choose as far as the apparent chance of preference is concerned, but a strong belief exists, nevertheless, that if the ranking officer, Wood, lets it be known even indirectly to President Taft that he would like to come to Washington to direct army affairs the President will pay heed and give him an opportunity.

There is one objection to General Wood's preference, as army officers regard it, and that is that every time that the General has been named for promotion there has been strong opposition in Congress to his advancement. This opposition was based largely on the belief of the legislators that the General had been given too rapid promotion.

MRS. J. J. McCALLUM SEEKS DIVORCE COURT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Mary Sherman McCallum, adopted daughter of late John Sherman, former Secretary of State and Senator from Ohio, filed suit today in the District Supreme Court for a divorce from James J. McCallum. The petition charges acts of infidelity in July and August 1908, at a local hotel.

Nature makes the cures after all. Now and then she gets into a tight place and needs helping out. Things get started in the wrong direction. Something is needed to check disease and start the system in the right direction toward health.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with hypophosphites can do just this. It strengthens the nerves, feeds famished tissues, and makes rich blood.

'BOOSTERS' TO GO AFTER BIG FUND

Oakland Delegation Sure it Will Secure Money for Dredging Estuary

Bernard E. Miller, president of the Syndicate Bank and Loan Park and all around booster of Oakland, appeared as spokesman before the city council last night and secured an appropriation of $195 for the purposes of paying a portion of the expenses of a delegation that will leave this city for the Rivers and Harbor Congress meeting at Washington, D. C., on December 8, where the question of whether Oakland will or will not get $250,000 for the dredging of the estuary between the spur tracks in the rear of the distributing station at Third and Oak streets, in preparation for the unloading of the company's cars. The work has been completed on the passenger depot at Third street, between Broadway and Washington street, and the building is ready for occupancy.

MAJOR ON TRIP

The council last night recognized the importance of Miller's request and complied with alacrity. More than twenty merchants and business men will make the trip to Washington, all paying their own way, in an effort to sell better the reputation of Greater Oakland. The money appropriated by the city council will be expended on what can be termed common expenses, where no one particular individual could be expected to shoulder the bill.

HAS OTHER FUNDS.

Miller has several hundred dollars raised aside from what the council appropriated and will have sufficient funds for the Oaklanders to make a decent showing when at the congress. The money appropriated by the city council will be expended on what can be termed common expenses, where no one particular individual could be expected to shoulder the bill.
